3	Fair and honest elections? Maybe, but between fair and honest CANDIDATES? Not so much.	Aug 19, 2010 8:10 PM
4	"They" always said "they'd get America from within".... the "within" is here...in Washington. America and Her citizens have never been in more danger than they are now with this radical corrupt regime in power.	Aug 19, 2010 8:11 PM

6	If these few questions aren't on the minds of all Americans, then we've lost our Republic already. If stupidity were a crime punishable by death, it's be lonely, wouldn't it!	Aug 19, 2010 8:13 PM
7	I believe we are most vulnerable during the 'lame duck' session (interim period between the elections and swearing the people in during the coming January). Even if ALL of the Democrats are soundly defeated, it does NOT mean they will be powerless in their last two months in office. Most Americans will spend too much time rejoicing about their 'victory' while, behind closed doors, Obama and his czars pass who knows what kind of Marxist abominations that we'll be expected to follow as 'law'. Also, if the Republicans get into office, they may well sit on their butts and do nothing at all. Remember, this is the same party that gave us the Patriot Act. Keep the powder dry and keep your ear to the ground!	Aug 19, 2010 8:14 PM

8	Th., 08/20/10 common era Justices Kagan and Sotomayor are both avidly anti 2nd Amendment. It remains to be seen whether at least 3 other Justices would agree with them on any civilian gun rights case, thus forming a majority of 5 out of 9. I read that Senators Feinstein and Schumer have ccw's. They are big hypocrites and should know better. They will probably attempt (again) to create a national data bank of all registered handgun owners in the U.S. That way, some Watergate-type bureaucrat could ask the computer to look up all Jewish-sounding surnames in Zip Code 90035, for example.	Aug 19, 2010 8:14 PM

10	An option for "possibly" would be better than just the option of "no" if one doesn't really think so, but cannot rule it out either.	Aug 19, 2010 8:15 PM
11	I fear that the current administration - Obama and criminal gang - could make use of a "crisis" (manufactured by the government) to gain power over the citizens of the United States.	Aug 19, 2010 8:15 PM
12	I believe we have already endured several "false flag" attacks - OKC bombing being one of them, and I believe more than a blind eye to terrorists in this country caused the 9/11 incident. As long as members of the CFR and TC are in power in our government and the American people are clueless to them, the march toward one world government under the UN will continue.	Aug 19, 2010 8:16 PM
13	As God's chosen people why do most American citizens of the Jewish faith vote for democrats?	Aug 19, 2010 8:18 PM
14	There will be a major terrorist attack, a major economic crisis, or both. This will necessitate the government intervening on our behalf to "save us." There is nothing that I would dismiss from the realm of possibility when it comes to what this president would do to retain and expand his power.	Aug 19, 2010 8:18 PM
15	I have grave doubts we will have an elections in November. History indicates that Maxis / Socialists who have come to power and gained a strong hold on the Government will NOT willingly give it up to an honest election!!! I took an Oath to defend this country against all enemies foreign and domestic. Tho 80 years old this year, that Oath had not expired!!! "When Democracy Becomes Tyranny I STILL get to vote." [I have guns and ammo....]	Aug 19, 2010 8:20 PM
16	I think the govt. will try to ban arms and I doubt they will patrol our southern border which is needed.	Aug 19, 2010 8:21 PM
17	These questions are not well framed. For example, "14. Could elections be postponed." Yes, it's possible. No, I don't think they will be. No, I don't think it's likely. I marked the questions with the following meanings - Yes=the hypothetical condition is something that could happen between now and the election. No=although possible, I don't think it is likely enough to warrant being addressed. Likely=the condition is more than possible and has a better than 50/50 chance of happening before the November 2010 elections, either because the Obama administration and the Democrat party will try to make it happen or because they are unable to prevent it. The exception is question 15 - I answered "No" but would have answered "Likely" had the question been worded as the previous ones were, something like, "Could there be examples of dishonesty or corruption in the elections?" It can be difficult to write questions for a survey that can produce meaningful and unbiased results. This one did not meet that objective. There are too many possible interpretations of each question to be able to rely on the results no matter how the questions are answered.	Aug 19, 2010 8:23 PM

20	OUR GREAT COUNTRY IS BEING TAKEN FROM US BY THE ANTI-AMERICAN MUSLIM BACKED GOVERNMENT, WE HAVE TO TAKE OUR COUNTRY BACK. MUSLIM'S HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE BUILDING OF OUR COUNTRY, BUT WILL HAVE EVERYTHING TO DO WITH IT'S DESTRUCTION.	Aug 19, 2010 8:28 PM
21	What I am writtingis nothing I have not sent Obama, Reid, Pelosi and Feinstein; they are low life slime ballls, they have no regard for anyone but themselves, and we are all connon fodder to their wills. Anything is possible from Obama, he is, was, and will forever be a Musin with only th einterest of the Muslins in his heart. You may print this and send it to anyone you like!	Aug 19, 2010 8:31 PM
22	Rounding up of "dissidents" - Tea Partiers, 2nd Amendment supporters, veterans, etc in the name of Public Safety. False allegations against conservative/libertarian candidates are a Sure Thing. Election Fraud is commonplace, I believe, especially in the age of computers, where no system is hacker-proof. Overseas Absentee Ballots are commonly not counted in close elections, like in Florida in 2000, when our military members were disenfranchised. Pelosi has already started questioning the motives and financing of those who oppose the Ground Zero Mosque. Desperate people will do whatever they can to hold on to power, until they run out of power or the will to use it at any cost.	Aug 19, 2010 8:32 PM
23	I feel we have passed the "point of no return" in this debacle. How it turns out remains to be seen, but I feel we are soon to see things that will be difficult for many to accept emotionally.	Aug 19, 2010 8:33 PM

27	Obama won the last election by about 9m+ votes. There are 11-20 million illegal aliens in this country, all using false id's and that will allow the person to register to vote. The mass majority of these criminals votes for the democrat party, the party that gives to anyone and creates a larger government.... Why do democrats vote against securing the border? Why wont they do this first? Obama voted to the Presidency by Americans or illegals? Our electoral systems is trashed as long as we cant determine the true citizenship of every voter. PC has won and we are playing catch up with criminals.	Aug 19, 2010 8:38 PM
28	I'm less concerned about what might happen before the midterm elections than what the lame-duck congress will attempt once the elections are out of the way, and they see no more adverse potential consequences.	Aug 19, 2010 8:38 PM

30	I think that the USA is so deep in doo-doo that it is likely to completely drown in its own doo-doo. Too bad & sad, that such a once wonderful country has degenerated into its ghastly condition today.	Aug 19, 2010 8:41 PM
31	with this jerk in office anything is possible real or made up.GOD BLESS AMERICA..	Aug 19, 2010 8:41 PM
32	You need better questions. Instead of "could" something happen with yes, no, likely, how about 5 choices from not likely to very likely? Or list these and let us answer which are more likely than others. It needs a more resolution. Like "could elections be postponed"? Sure. What's the chance? Not much, in my opinion. 34	1. An assassination attempt would play well for Obama. 2. Terrorist attacks, martial law and the draft are not on the horizon. These would make the current administration's platform and agenda look week or wrong directed. 3. I fully predict another school shooting. This will greatly support greater gun control measures. I even predict a minimum of one shooting at a polling place come November 4. As far as illegal's, this is way too hot a topic for the Dems. 5. There will be no scandal. The state run media will protect its own. I do predict a few short lived oops that would imprison any conservative administration. 6. Social security, the economy, metals and retirement are all tied to the economy. The current administration's plan and direction should be entitled " H.M.S. Titanic". And we have already struck the iceberg while we passengers are busy playing on deck. 7. Fair elections....Conservative groups and individuals will be vilified for mealy voting. Liberal groups, at worst, will get a pass on most anything.	Aug 19, 2010 8:46 PM

39	The liberals will "lay low" until after the election.	Aug 19, 2010 8:51 PM
40	There is an issue with asking "Could" vs. "Is it likely"? From a data collection and questionnaire formulation standpoint, "Could" means is there any possibility it might happen. There is always some possibility something might happen even though the probability is small. Could the price of gold skyrocket? Sure it could. But is it probable? What influences that probability? The economic conditions of our country and others. The ability of our country to borrow money from other countries. Catastrophic events that cause instability. Actual mining production values. However, just like what happened two years ago, it is very hard to predict how these factors will impact that price. The dollar is still seen as a safe haven. The dollar may strengthen and the value of gold decrease because of it given a calamity that is felt worldwide. A US led attack on Iran could strengthen the dollar. The Euro declining due to the PIIGs economies would likely strengthen the dollar. Essentially, you can answer yes to all of these questions at any time because of how they are phrased, but you'll never get an accurate account of how likely people feel they will actually happen. 42	Q's 12 13 14 15 are very tough to answer as asked. The hope is that things will not progress to those measures, but this administration may try anything to force their agenda before the next major elections. Of course, this is if people get their "heads out" and dump this trash so the damage can be dealt with and circumvented. We can not allow this admin. to add to the damage of the two new justices!! 43	There will be some kind of manufactured crisis initiated by the socialist left when they feel their power slipping and the success of the constitutional conservative right and the running of the table by the tea party conservatives. Nothing is worse than a cornered animal and I am worried about the backlash the socialists (we now call the democratic party) will put into place to preserve their power. To indicate the level of unrest in the country, I tried to purchase the domain name "onetermobama.com" and wasn't surprised when I found out that someone had already registered it. This gives you an idea of the amount of "push back" the power elite in DC have no comprehension is occurring. Of course, it could have been purchased by Obama supporters to keep it out of the hands of conservatives. Either way, it is interesting.	Aug 19, 2010 8:55 PM
44	Obama loaned a Brazilian Oil Company, controlled by Soros, 2 billion dollars to develop a new field when the oil company has already sold all oil rights to its new field to the Chinese. Only Soros benefits and the US loses 2 billion. This is what Obama does. He is the most evil person ever to sit in office next to Hakim "Keith Ellison" Muhammad who is in Congress and wants to impose sharia. Is the US damned? Not if we now pick our arms and fight these dirty, rotten grovelling mussulmen.,	Aug 19, 2010 8:56 PM

46	That article you linked to is just more conspiracy talk. Nothing on that order could ever have taken place in the 50's and 60's. Our leaders were more honest then.	Aug 19, 2010 8:57 PM
47	I see more of an "economic" event staged by obama leading to some sort of trouble with the election. Anything else I think many Americans would see through, but an economic crisis most people won't see as manufactured by obama.	Aug 19, 2010 9:03 PM
48	Depending on the outcome of the November Elections there could be an armed uprising by the People so long ignored by the so called "Law Makers" or a dramatic change in the way Politics are done in the U.S..	Aug 19, 2010 9:05 PM

50	I have one question and one statement: Q. What is the difference between the meaning of the following two ideas: (a) From each according his ability, to each according to his needs. (Marx) (b) Redistribution of wealth. (Obama) Statement: I would not trust anything Obama said if he had his tongue notarized.	Aug 19, 2010 9:08 PM
51	I believe Obama will be the fall guy. He is a CIA invention and now is a liability. It will not just be the large cities that will have Martial Law. I foresee anyone living along the border also will be forbidden to travel. There has been over 500 Mexican Army incursions, but our government does nothing. Living along the border I will tell you Border Patrol are the new Nazi brown shirts. They trespass on peoples property, cut locks, leave gates open, stop cars to "see if the car is stolen" even though they are not allowed by state law.	Aug 19, 2010 9:12 PM
52	Need two more categories. Somewhat likely, and false flag event. I fully expect a major false flag catastrophe within the next 6 months, engineered by the government to distract people from the ever increasing economic disaster. Another 9-11 or much worse. At some point, the tipping point will be reached where most people are no longer able or willing to react as the politicians/bureaucrats wish. Then will come the martial law and cancellation of elections. Until then, the status quo is serving them fairly well.	Aug 19, 2010 9:12 PM
53	Whatever all these possibilities present, there will be adequate proof we are in great danger... as if that already is not presented.	Aug 19, 2010 9:13 PM

69	It is clear that we are being setup for something and that something would appear to entail more government control of all facets of our lives. How it will be justified or by what excuse the plan will be executed is still not clear, but I believe that the illegal alien invasion, a food shortage and financial collapse are necessary parts of the plan.	Aug 19, 2010 10:09 PM
70	if these things occur, i believe "we the people" will attack our corrupt politicians.!	Aug 19, 2010 10:10 PM
71	The people have become inured to so-called "terrorist attacks." 9/11 occurred because the people saw through the Oklahoma City Bombing and the shooting down of TWA 800 -- no one was willing to believe these false flag attacks were foreign terrorist attacks, and in the case of TWA 800 government knew they had blown it because the militia group they were after refused to buy the Stinger missile they offered them. Therefore 9/11 had to be humongous to get the public's attention, and it did, even though the holes in the government theory of what happened were glaring and obvious -- like a building does not come down in its own footprint from burning jet fuel; it has to be a controlled demolition. THEREFORE, if there is an October Surprise, the purpose will be to delay to stop elections entirely, and it will have to be VERY big. If it happens at all, it will have to be a coordinated attack on several civilian cities at once, possibly with nuclear weapons. But they will have to involve fire and smoke and explosions; quiet releases of biotoxins or the like won't get the public's attention.	Aug 19, 2010 10:11 PM
72	The trigger for disorder is just as likely to be pulled by entities that hate the USA as by the government, itself. If the kind of near-paranoia expressed in the article is representative of a significant minority of Americans, our external and internal enemies may be tripping over each other to set something off. If you were a genuine enemy of the US, having read that article, wouldn't you think you might be able to tip things into chaos without too much effort, just by waiting until the right moment?	Aug 19, 2010 10:11 PM
73	This Congress and Executive Administration has proven they are not listening to the tax paying citizenry of the U.S.A. As such, they will do what they feel is best to incorporate their anti-liberty / anti-freedom agenda into action, the tax paying citizen be damned. They have no reason to fear or listen to us any longer.	Aug 19, 2010 10:12 PM
74	This survey is poorly worded, and the options to answer are poorly chosen. The fact that "likely" is a possible answer merely confuses. Either the answers should be "yes" or "no," or you should use a sliding scale from "no" through "unlikely," "likely," and "yes." Further, are all these questions specifically asking about october, or are they asking "at any time." For instance, will private retirements be nationalized in october? Absolutely not. Will private retirements be nationalized in the next decade? Absolutely. I think it is important to get a true understanding of what people are thinking, and this survey does not do that. MICHAEL	Aug 19, 2010 10:13 PM
75	While anything is possible, more likely is the continuation of the long, slow strangulation and blood-letting of the republic by the globalist vampires.	Aug 19, 2010 10:13 PM
76	These are tough time and the questions are taxing and relavent. However the current pack of liars and thieves in the white house (and I mean right at the top, like the top 3 people) probably won't need to commit to anything as drastic as that hinted at in the questions. Most of America is still asleep or doesn't care, or are to busy just getting by. The administration is so big on itself that they don't care about the up coming elections, in fact I figure they are already fixed in favor of themselves, hence nothing dramatic will occur. obama will just keep spewing his lies and the lemmings will follow the great savior anywhere, like down the current hole he is digging. This sounds paranoid but Red Dawn is coming and it won't be the Russians or the Chinese but it might be US troop mingled with UN troops. I'm ready and by God I plan on making it count. obama is a muslim and a hater of Christians and Jews. Read his books. Seems someone else wrote a book about what they would do when in power, I think it was called Mein Kampf ! I don't know if he is the anti-Christ be he's pretty close! God Bless America	Aug 19, 2010 10:15 PM

78	Since these last few years have appeared to be some kind of repeat of the first term of the Clinton presidency, it seems that we are doing better in one area and worse in the other. We are doing worse in the area of the size of the Federal government, mostly due to Obamacare and the various bailouts. We are doing better because the American people are regaining the means of war by buying many firearms and many rounds of ammunition. Because Clinton got no citizen to buy as many guns as Obama did and Clinton didn't get Hillarycare passed, we are doing much better under Obama than under Clinton.	Aug 19, 2010 10:20 PM

91	I am a Jew who believes in G-d and torah. It is not just these corrupt big-government statist criminal politicians that come up with this criminal statist crap, it is Zionism that is behind the whole thing. I support Jews For The Preservation Of Firearms Ownership, but I do not support Zionism. Satanic Talmudic Zionist Jews are the ones behind 9-11 and starting all the major wars of history. JPFO, just as you want NRA to be honest on its positions, you need to be honest about the crime called Zionism. Not only that, but you need to renounce it if you are Jews who truly love torah and abide by it.	Aug 19, 2010 10:53 PM

98	With this administration and their Alinsky styled Machiavellianism nothing is outside the scope of possibility. Activity at the forefront in congress and in the media are more often than not political ploys covering the real damage being done behind the scenes. Expect it to continue and become even more repugnant. I genuinely hope the trend can be turned around by the November elections.	Aug 19, 2010 11:13 PM
99	Has there ever been absolutely fair and honest elections? Like when the Supreme Court decides who won?!! If voters on both sides of the aisle were not up in arms after that decision, then they do not understand the Constitution and will fall for anything--from either party. The American people have no sense of history.	Aug 19, 2010 11:18 PM

105	I have speculated about an "emergency" situation that will cause a postponement of the November elections to keep the current balance of the House and Senate intact. If Israel attacks Iran, a major middle-eastern war could cause Carter era gas shortages, which would cause much higher costs of everything. Just because we have never had food riots here, doesn't mean they cannot, or will not happen. Hunger can fuel civil unrest, which would give the crisis the Obama administration would need to declare martial law. Massive inflation and civil unrest sure greased the ways for Hitler. But I've heard from long time christians that Obama is going to tear down the united states and will shake hands with the anti-christ! "the bees know"! not to mention the flies! The problem is the patriot act! next they could call jews or chistians terrorist! "FEAR THE GOVERNMENT THAT FEARS YOU"! 110	My answers were based on the possibility of an attack on Iran. This would likely decrease fuel supply, increase fuel prices, cause an economic downturn, and increase the price of precious metals. No attack on Iran and my answers might be different.	Aug 19, 2010 11:48 PM

112	The left has proven that it will thwart law or change law to get it's agenda of socialism /one world corporation/government. They will also create crisis and use them to gather ,keep power and negate or reduce our rights. If we let that happen we are fools. However , every person must decide for themselves how much is too much and what they will do about it . Violence is not the answer but history proves violence is almost always necessary to overcome government tyranny. 1776 or Battle of Athens,TN. are proof.	Aug 19, 2010 11:54 PM
113	Anything COULD happen. The Venezuealans could attack with the money they rec'd from the TARP or Stimulus or ??? supported by Russian and Chinese troops. Iran could attack the West. If Martial Law is declared it will most likely be considered an act of war against the American people. We will not give up our fundamental human rights under ANY CIRCUMSTANCES and will resist with deadly and effective force. Many of us have been trained by the greatest Army and Marine Corps in the world.	Aug 20, 2010 12:09 AM
114	We may at any day from this day forward experience a set of possibly three major social and cultural events, all combined contemporaneously - 1 - a revolution 2 - a civil war 3 - total financial collapse My point is that for the first time in our history we could face all three traumas at the same time. And in any case, if any of the three possibilities come to fruition, the response of the national government shall be the establishment of a nationwide military-police state under military rule reinforced by United Nations assets and foreign troops. Cheery world, eh? Thanks Aaron.	Aug 20, 2010 12:11 AM
115	This country as a nation is shot. While groups sit around and try to get "pro gun" candidates elected there is a failure to see that "voting" no longer matters. Things have gone too far to "vote" a cure to our troubles within our government. The only cure is a revolution. Many lives will be spared if it happens before we're "legally" disarmed.Sadly, I doubt there will be enough people to stand up against the entrenched corrupt government. IMHO	Aug 20, 2010 12:26 AM

122	Any military action against Iran will come after the election. I believe that there is going to be a major shake-up in the upper most part of Obama's entourage due to a scandal. I believe that our civil liberties are in jeopardy and that this will materialize after the election. I think that Obama is going to keep his cards close until after the election. I also am convinced that we are in a lot more trouble than meets the eye.	Aug 20, 2010 1:02 AM
123	I do believe that the Government (local, state and most certainly, Federal) is fully capable of 'creating' a scenario -the so-called "October Surprise"- to try and effect some kind of 'change' (sorry to have to use that word) in the electorate's mood or motivation, however, I think that those machinations -many of those listed- would more likely occur in the lame-duck session as Aaron described earlier. THAT to me is a real fear just as he articulated (thank you Aaron!!). If the November election is a fait accompli for Republicans then the Lame-Duck scenario is quite likely. I think the Administration wants it that way too. So they (He)_can blame the Republicans for the ensuing economic catastrophes to come and for that matter any attempt by the GOP ascendant to 'un-do' Obamacare, Financial Reform Bill, Cap and 'trade', et. al. This plays right into the hands of the Liberal wing's hands for 2012 where it's all up for grabs again...regardless, the Statists -of both parties- have won...it's only about who chairs the committees at this point to quote Ms. Wolfe again "America is at that uncomfortable stage where it's too late to work within in the system, but too early to shoot the bastards." The Statists should understand fully that at this point it's not 'early' for much longer....thanks for all your incredible work. I believe that your singular voice, perspective and action in educating all of us is more valued than I can say. Thank you.	Aug 20, 2010 1:05 AM

131	The likelihood of some catastrophe in order to pass laws with panic and fear instead of reason, have always been the way of the liberals. Since this President is imitating Hitler and Stalin (as well as other dictators of the past), he may very well incite some chaos to declare martial law and make his administration lifers (less the moderates and conservatives who oppose; however passively). He may incite the people to defend themselves and then turn the police and troup on their own. I'm not Jewish myself, but I have more respect for Israel than for any other country on the planet.	Aug 20, 2010 2:12 AM
140	The most likely "October Surprise" is a terrorist attack. Whether false flag or not, the effect (Martial Law) would be the same. Far more likely is an out-of-control "Lame Duck" congressional session passing Amnesty & the restoration of voting rights to felons. Between them 26 million new Democrat votes for 2012 - and a permanent Democrat / Socialist presidency. They could also throw in a draconian Assault Weapons Ban on steroids, just for kicks. No longer fearing the people, all hell will break loose. Amnesty is the key - given that, the Republic is finished, and there is simply no way to "undo" it once it is accomplished. 164	I do not think we will have elections in November. Obama and his crew will not give up the power they have taken. If we do have elections they will not be fair and honest. There is too much to lose for the liberals. There will be some type of event to allow him to declare martial law under the patriot act which will suspend elections indefinitely. There are only a few politicians who follow the law. A scandal might very well erupt since more and more people are waking up to the fact that he isn't eligible to hold office. 8/28 might turn into a riot if the black panthers follow through on their threats. Enough whites are tired of the naacp and all of the racial bullshit shoved down everyone's throats that when the first shot is fired it will not stop until the whites are out of ammo. 199	I answered yes to most of the questions because the question was posed as "could this happen?" Almost anything (could) happen. As far as martial law is concerned, I believe that all that is required to do that is declare a national emergency. That is in place now for influenza outbreaks. It hasn't happened, but the national emergency is in place. As far as fair and honest elections are concerned, I don't remember a fair and honest election since I have been voting for about 50 years or so in national elections. There is always the option of having the draft reinstated. That is, and always has been, one of the ways the govt. has to defend the country in times of danger from outside. Attack on Iran. Iran almost certainly will come under attack. It could be from the U.S., or more likely by Isreal. Their existance allmost certainly depends on Iran not having nukes as Iran has said openly that they will wipe Isreal from the face of the earth. It's not an option for Isreal. Whether or not the present administration in Washington DC will respond, or how they will respond remains to be seen.	Aug 20, 2010 4:17 PM
200	I would not put anything passed our government or should I say the people that run it. After what happened on Sept 11, 2001, they will do anything to get their way and "We the People" will pay the price..	Aug 20, 2010 4:22 PM
201	Home grown terrorism will have to rise substantially for the gov to carry out their plans. You will see a huge rise in home grown terrorism and subversion rhetoric. Contribed racism has already risen to unprecedented levels. The Constitution is being demonized.	Aug 20, 2010 4:43 PM

203	I have thought about this False Flag thing, and feel there is a possibility of it being used to control elections and maybe martial law.	Aug 20, 2010 6:23 PM
204	I answered all questions in the affirmative, 15 excepted, not because I think the actions/situations referenced will or should happen, rather because I think they COULD take place or happen. As to question 15, define "fair" and "honest". The way elections are run, the possibility of the success of a third party candidate being virtually impossible, some would say that the elections are already rigged. As to possible answers, you listed "yes", "no" and "likely". Why was "unlikely" not included, I think it should have been. By the way, respecting the possibility of an or an attempted assassination, there is ALWAYS that possibility, the existence of Gun Control Laws having nothing to do with the thing. Such attempts can be defeated, they cannot however be prevented.	Aug 20, 2010 6:57 PM
205	The end times are approaching. Is there anything we as private citizens can do to stop/delay them? No. All we can do is be responsible voters and prepare for the worst, hoping for the best.	Aug 20, 2010 7:17 PM
206	I wouldn't put anything passed this current administration. Watching them has given my great pause ot contemplate the beginnings of the german decline in 1933. I can see the same things happening here in regards to the criminals in charge. What's the difference between a communist and a socialist like we have today and what they had back then?	Aug 20, 2010 7:38 PM
207	We're heading for a depression in this country, we need to brace ourselves for much, much more than financial hardship. We need to brace ourselves against millions of lawless people demanding "entitlements" they have not earned and for which they have no intention of offering anything in exchange. I fear we cannot survive an economic depression when it's coupled with an unwillingness to embrace a work ethic, independence, civility and religious foundation. Once the artificial props of government entitlements are removed, it will be every man for himself. The results may be anarchy and chaos. And it will give the government a clear opportunity to take advantage of the "crisis" and put in place a government such as we could never imagine.	Aug 20, 2010 7:39 PM

208	With an incompetant president who is a socialist and has proven he doesn't have a clue, the economy will only get worse. But because he is a Muslin, I don't believe we are destined for a fuel crisis. I don't think there would be anybody available to enforce an effective martial law problem, since our impotent leader couldn't get his act together on such an issue. But who knows, he is the most secretive and arrogant president in my life-time. I'm 48, so I've seen a few bad presidents.	Aug 20, 2010 8:12 PM
209	I feel that the current administration will stage terrorist attack and suspend the Constitution, requesting UN troops to help dismantle the US for the fools in Washington. Remeber all this is about one World Government. This is the only way that they can succeed.	Aug 20, 2010 8:28 PM
210	Our "FAKE" president will help the Muslims try to take over our country. They will not find it as easy as they think, even with his help. PREPARE FOR THE WORST-- AND HOPE FOR THE BEST. 212	The liberals, the left, the progressives can be called anything you want, but they are all communist and want to take away your freedoms. The communist have hijacked the democratic party and most don't even know it. We need to wake up and vote all the incumbents out of office and replace them with patriotic representatives. This Nov. we have a chance to take the US back and we will do it.	Aug 20, 2010 9:14 PM
213	I'm saying No to those questions I pray will not happen. However, I don't put anything past this administration. I believe they will stop at nothing!	Aug 20, 2010 10:31 PM

216	It is extremely obvious to me that one thing the Elites must do to "solidify" their goals is to get the arms and weapons out of the citizens hands. Without that, it will be difficult to go very far with their plans.	Aug 20, 2010 11:50 PM
217	I chose yes on most of the questions, but of all of them, I believe a terrorist attack is most likely to happen. Thanks for all you do for our 2nd. amendment rights	Aug 21, 2010 12:25 AM

222	All I can say it was a horrible day when that man got elected and that I knew that America was really in trouble. I pray that the American spirit comes out and people open there eyes and do something to change it this November. Yes I truley believe that something will happen to prevent or postpone the elections,wont it be intresting!	Aug 21, 2010 6:29 AM

223	I expect events between now and November to become very dangerous to all of us. I fully expect a false flag in the Persian Gulf as an excuse to launch full scale attacks on Iran. This will not only give the government a rally point, but will also cover the economic collapse. History has shown that in times of financial collapse, despots will always start a foreign war to cover themselves.	Aug 21, 2010 11:37 AM
224	The wording of this survey is problematic-- any of these things "could" happen. I don't think that it is likely that there will be an abrupt catastrophe, but I think the slow progression toward economic problems and political repression will continue.	Aug 21, 2010 12:23 PM

227	We are in completely uncharted waters. Computer technology and speed of information... or dis-information. We can no longer trust ANYBODY'S report of who did what. We will have only the opportunity to react to what is done to us by our government. I expect serious conflict. After what was done post 9-11 to our freedom I believe there is a huge and hidden layer of doubt and cynicism in the minds of thinking Americans. If you hear about it on Fox or CNN etc. It's a lie. 231	The liberal Statists currently in leadership positions in the government and in high positions of authority within the beaurocracy will do whatever it takes, legal or illegal, in order to maintain their position of power. Happened in 2008 and will happen again this year.	Aug 22, 2010 5:51 AM
232	Likely event would be: natural or man made disaster (Gulf Oil Spill/Terrorist Attack) that the Government uses to declare martial law if citizens "get wise" to the power elite plans for destruction of the Republic. Since Government is broke, and no one buys its debt, takeover of corralled retirement accounts is likely. Debt based currency issued by banks have failed, however, instead of US issued notes debt free by Treasury, we will be back to the gold standard (not the gold/silver standard) which they can easily control. As a government in crisis always needs a bigger crisis, war with "take your pick" is likely, specially Iran since there is some oil there.	Aug 22, 2010 12:44 PM
233	There will never be any fair and honest election in this country as long as we are not required to show proof of citizenship and get a picture voter registration card and have to show this ID card to vote.	Aug 22, 2010 1:11 PM

236	I'm watching the 1984 film Red Dawn right now and I must say that's how I always thought it would happen not that we elected the Communists but that they invaded. I'm fairly certain amnesty for illegal immigrants is on the horizon either this year or the spring of 2012 adding 35 million new Democratic voters that will repay President Obama and his cronies favor by keeping them in office. Check out the September 2010 issue of Soldier of Fortune for more on the Amnesty issue.	Aug 22, 2010 7:20 PM

242	Although a terrorist attack under suspicious circumstances is fairly likely at some point, my guess is that it will NOT be between now and the 2010 congressional elections. While Americans are starting to wake up and the Tea Party shows signs of influence, these trends are not on track to be an existential threat to the Insiders/establishment as soon as November 2010.
